

Results are in for Crowders Mountain 50 Kilometer. It was an exciting race throughout the field, with Annette Bedosky winning overall. This Claude Sinclair race was resumed after a year hiatus by Sam Baucom and Ray Krolewicz in 2006 when 25 runners entered, 22 started and everyone finished. In 2007 29 runners registered, 27 started, and once again 22 finished. A couple of the runners who did not finish had planned to run only two loops and entered to support the race. Among them was Doug Dawkins who brought complimentary entries for the male and female winners for the Bethel Hill Moonlight Boogie he directs, to be held June 16th. www.theboogieraces.com

The only glitch of the day occurred at 2.5 miles when Tom Gabell and Richard Sexton ran past the aid station, (declining aid when asked) which also served to mark the turn from the road to the trail. They lost time, but not heart, as both finished even with an off course somewhere between 1 ½ and 2 miles. Jim Cobb came from 6th after the first lap to finish second overall, and first among the men.
